THE JUDGESHIP.

The appointment of the judges, while a shock to many Hiloites was not a surprise to the TRIBUNE, and it is indicative of the confidence reposed by the President in Governor Carter's ability to control the affairs of this Territory in its executive, legislative and judicial branches of government. Amid the confused and jarring elements which factional strife engenders, the President must needs rely on the advice of one who is impartial, who is free from petty bickerings and who looks upon the administration of affairs with an eye single to the public good. Such an adviser is Governor George R. Carter and in making his selection of judicial appointees, the latter has reflected the wishes of those who are his friends and counsellors.

Judge Charles E. Parsons, although a young man, is a man of much promise. Well educated, scholarly and a close student, his elevation to the bench presages a bright and successful career. The TRIBUNE does not stultify its former support of Judge Little or Mr. Ross, when it bespeaks for Judge Parsons all the honors and emoluments which the high office of Circuit Judge carries in its train. The TRIBUNE expresses the hope that his record on the bench may be of as high an order as his private life has been above reproach.

THE HILO CROAKER.

The day of small things is upon us, and still onetted distinctly against the eastern sky of that new day are the fat and toothsome hams of the Hilo frog. In a voice half way between that of a bull and a bulbul, the Hilo rana esculenta is demanding the attention of epicures, and its claims should not remain unheeded. Hilo has worked hard to achieve the reputation of being an up-to-date town, and has taken a step in that direction, but its lustre will soon tarnish if its citizens do not in the very near future erect a cannery and conserve fat and juicy frog legs for the market on Hawaii and the mainland. A hoghead of live frogs would only make a weekly mouthful for Maui, and the other islands would want as much. Please see that our plate is heaped with white, crispy frog legs every Sunday morning, Hilo. —Maui News.

The discovery that the editor of the TRIBUNE applied over six years ago for a homestead in Upper Maui has thrown our contemporary into a "keniption fit." But since Editor Stacker made an utter failure of small farming in Oiaa, nobody pays any attention to his drivellings. Thomas J. Ryan, the great populist commentator, is regularly by afflicted with "land grab" spasms, and does not even go through the formality of an application to the land office, being satisfied to remain a "squatter" on the public domain.

Railroad Change.

Several changes have taken place in the freight department of the Hilo Railroad. John Mann has been put in charge of the Fernside station, succeeding Station Agent Driver. Ellison Powell station agent at Kopoho is replaced by A. H. Olney, of Waialua. A. MacAulion is now in charge of the railroad's office on the Hilo Dock, succeeding L. W. Taylor, who recently went to the coast. W. C. Borden, agent at Fernside is granted a ten days leave of absence, to enable him to be a witness in the Brown Speckels case at Honolulu. L. Schutte is acting in his place temporarily.

Military Boys Back.

Company D in command of Capt. W. A. Fetter returned by the Kinau and were given an ovation by a large crowd, which was augmented by the Hilo Band and a platoon of police. A march was immediately made to the Armory, where the ladies of Hilo under the supervision of Mrs. Wm. Wright had prepared an elaborate luncheon. The soldier boys were much pleased with their reception and Captain Fetter on behalf of his company desires to extend thanks for the welcome home. All seemed to enjoy the trip and gained much experience in camp life at Honolulu.

TREASURY WARRANTS.

Only Those Registered to be Paid Promptly.

Only Treasury warrants which have received the stamp of approval by the Territorial Treasurer and been registered are being paid. Warrants are not paid in the serial number in which they are issued, as many appear to believe, but are paid in the order in which they are registered. When warrants are presented and there is no available funds in the Treasury with which to pay the same, the Treasurer will endorse the fact on the back, giving the warrant a registry number and date. This entitles the holder to 5 per cent. interest from date of registry, and many are taking advantage of this method of insuring payment of warrants now held up. Col. C. A. Stobie, Cashier of the First Bank of Hilo is authority for the statement that all registered warrants numbered up to and including No. 7613 will be paid by November 1st, but subsequent numbers, registered prior to June 1st, will not be met until November receipts come in, which are estimated to amount to $1,065,000. After meeting all warrants registered up to June 1st there will be left funds available in the Treasury, amounting to $638,823.99, which can be applied to warrants registered between June 1st and November 1st.

Wise and Otherwise.

The temple of commerce,
So splendidly rising,
Is built upon columns
Of good advertising.

—Exchange.

To be entirely esthetic and appropriate to the individual, the flag to be floated from the Beckley Pavilion should be an Admiral's pennant.

The genial Kaiser of Honokaa is reputed to be very much in love with the new method of locomotion.

Private citizen Geo. N. Day says he does not expect to attend the Chicago Convention this year, but will devote his attention to the Hilo Cotillion Club for the ensuing dancing season.

The following conversation was overheard at the Cotillion Club dance: He—"Shall we talk or dance?" She—"I'm so tired. Let's dance."

Dr. F. W. Taylor of Paunilo is kept very busy between Honokaa and Ooakala. They say he doesn't know where he's "at."

Wm. K. Ragsdale succeeded in hanging twelve men on the jury which sat on his case. It may next be in order to try him for "hanging."

A local Irish philosopher is credited with saying: "Money is the root of all evil. If there was no money, there would be no Jews, then we Irish would get it all."

There is a certain celebrity of Honokaa, who ordered a suit of clothes made by the village tailor, and before it was finished, had grown so much the suit was too small.

Now that there are opportunities to get on the Hilo Road Board, we fail to see the wild scramble by those who have been so free to give advice.

Young man, do not be alarmed or discouraged if you find her cold and distant when you last called. She may have been eating onions.

Judging from the new styles in wearing apparel which some married men have lately adopted, you would suppose their wives tried to match the parlor carpet in the selection.

Were anyone to attempt to pronounce the names on the Russia-Japan war map, he might be mistaken for a phonograph running backwards.

Just to show there is no ill feeling toward the English, a Japanese has given his opinion of the Anglo-Saxon race as follows:

"The England which occupied of the largest and greatest dominion which rarely can be. The Englishman works with a very powerful hands and the long legs and even the emaciated mind, his chin is so strong as deuced iron. He are not allowed to it to escape if he did siezed something. Being spread his dominion is dreadfully extensive so that his countryman boastfully say the 'sun are never sets on our dominions.' The Testimony of English said he that lost the common sense, he never any benefit though he had gained the complete world. The English are cunning institutioned to establish a great empire of the Paradise. The Englishman always said to the another nation 'give me your land and I will give you my Testimony.' So it is not a robbed but exchanged as the Englishman always confide the object to be pure and the order to be holy and they reproach him if any them are killed to death with the contention of other man."

Chess by Mail.

The Honolulu Chess Club, through its secretary A. E. Cooley has challenged the Hilo Chess Club to a correspondence game of chess, the moves being forwarded by the respective clubs each week. The Englishman always said to the another nation 'give me your land and I will give you my Testimony.' So it is not a robbed but exchanged as the Englishman always confide the object to be pure and the order to be holy and they reproach him if any them are killed to death with the contention of other man."
